

Time to prepare for the Chinese New Year 2017

2017

The public Chinese New Year holidays 2017 are January 27th through to February 6th. As this is a nationwide national holiday it affects all production, and we are preparing action-plans together with our factories to find different ways of working around disruptions.

All our efforts are always focused on your production, and our Factory Management-team will be manned during the whole Chinese New Year. But despite all the precautions we are taking, it could be good to think ahead and plan for the Chinese New Year to avoid disruption in your production. We have made a list of a number of proactive measures to think about.

WHY IS THE CHINESE NEW YEAR SPECIAL?

The Chinese New Year is the most important traditional holiday in China. It is also known as the Spring Festival, the literal translation of the modern Chinese name. Chinese New Year celebrations traditionally ran from Chinese New Year's Eve, the last day of the last month of the Chinese calendar, to the Lantern Festival on the 15th day of the first month, making the festival the longest in the Chinese calendar. It is also the occasion when many Chinese travel across the country to spend the holiday with their families. The Chinese New Year has been called the largest annual human migration in the world.

ACCORDING TO THE CHINESE ZODIAC, 2017 IS THE YEAR OF THE ROOSTER

People born in a year of the Rooster are very observant, hardworking, resourceful, courageous and talented. Roosters are very confident about themselves. They are active and enjoy sports. They could be a little sensitive, and they feel stressed and moody at times.
